ENGLISH WRITER PRAISES BAKER

London, Oct. 25.—A little story about an Alsatian girl in a pair of new shoes among the ruins of St. Michiel won for Secretary N. D. Baker a place in the hearts of the English newspaper men who interviewed him in London recently.

The young woman in her Sunday best, was wandering among the ruins. She had on a pair of brand new shoes, exquisite creations that would have been fine even in pre-war days. And this after four years of German occupation.

Baker stopped to question her.

"Oh, I bought them before the war, she replied. "I hid them in the cellar when the Germans came I wanted to have them ready for the day of emancipation. I knew it would come some time. But it seemed a long time waiting, sometimes."

"That Secretary of yours is a great chap," an English journalist remarked after the interview. "He's so jolly human and unaffected. That was a topnole story about that girl with the new shoes, wasn't it now? Fancy a Secretary of War noticing little things like that. I like that kind of man."

CHRISTMAS PARCELS

Red Cross Completes Plans for Persons to Send Xmas Gifts to Soldiers Overseas—Each Package Shall Not weigh more than Three Pounds

An arrangement has been completed between the War Department, Post Office Department and the American Red Cross, whereby the latter has undertaken to co-operate in the preparation for mailing of these Christmas parcels, to simplify the execution of this plan a large number of specially manufactured cardboard cartons have been purchased which will be distributed through the chapters to the relatives and friends of men in service overseas.

The amount of shipping space which has been set aside for the transportation of Christmas Parcels will permit the sending of but one parcel to each man. To avoid any duplication, and to make sure that each parcel will be correctly addressed, a Christmas Parcel label is now being issued to the men abroad.

Men will be instructed to mail this label home to some relative or friend who, upon receiving it, will apply to the nearest chapter, branch or auxiliary headquarters, or such other places as may be designated by the Red Cross where, upon presentation of the Christmas Parcel label, they will receive one carton, 3x4x9 in size.

The person receiving a carton may fill it with any combination of articles which will fit in it and which are not barred by the Post Office Department. When completely packed and ready to be mailed the weight of the carton must not exceed three pounds.

Articles barred by Post Office regulations:

All written messages, notes, etc.; all spirituous, vinous, malted fermented or other intoxicating liquors; all kinds of poison and all articles and compositions containing poison; explosives of all kinds; inflammable materials, including friction matches; infernal machines and mechanical, chemical or other devices of compositions which may ignite or explode; Note under this classification would come cigarette lighters, etc.; liquids or liquefiable articles, fragilartic less and other admissible matter when not packed in accordance with the requirements of the postal laws and regulations.

All other articles which may kill, or in any wise hurt, harm, or injure another, or damage or deface or otherwise injure the mails or other property.

Bear these facts in mind when packing your Christmas parcel.

Nothing should go in a Christmas parcel which will not keep fresh from the time of packing until Christmas. Dried fruits and other food products should be packed in small tins or wooden boxes, one-quarter to one-half pound size.

Hard candy including chocolate, would probably be safe in tin foil or heavy cardboard, but no soft chocolates not anything that could possibly be crushed should be used, as the remaining contents of the package might be spoiled thereby.

Several dainties packed in oblong tin boxes holding each a quarter of a pound will provide a better variety for a packet than a larger quantity of a single confection.

No liquids nor articles packed in glass should be placed in the package.

For wrapping the gifts, use a khaki-colored handkerchief, twenty-seven inches square.

When the package has been packed, it should be taken, unwrapped and unsealed together with the label and sufficient stamps to the nearest collection center designated by the Red Cross. After the package has passed the inspection of the Red Cross representatives as to the contents and weight, and been wrapped in stout paper, the Christmas label bearing the address of the man for whom it is intended is placed on it. The person sending the package, in the presence of the Red Cross worker, is required to affix stamps sufficient to carry it to Hoboken, N J. The postal charges are to be at the rate of fourth class or parcel post zone rate. A label certifying that the inspection has been completed by the Red Cross is placed on the package, which is left in the custody of the Red Cross until delivered to the postal authorities.

Mrs. Charles Aubrey Callahan is chairman in charge of packages to be sent from here to soldiers overseas.

These cartons have not been received yet However, as soon as they are the public will be notified, through the Gazette, and the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce will be open for the distribution of the same.

GERMANYS RETREAT

Wants Allied Troops Remain Where They Are—Retrocession of Alsace-Lorraine Opposed.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Germany's high command is ready to evacuate the invaded territories of France and Belgium in the express condition that the allied troops will not follow them in retreat, but will remain where they are located, according to the latest information from Berlin, says the Zurich correspondent of the Journal.

This grotesque proposal is the outcome of the latest conferences at Berlin between the members of the general staff and the War Cabinet, it is said. The militarist party is rapidly gaining ground, but the members of the moderate factions believe that before long grave internal events will help to improve the situation.

The dispatch says that the existing government remains very hostile to the retrocession of Alsace and Lorraine to France. Emperor William himself is reported to have denounced emphatically such an event at the meeting of the Crown Council on Saturday.

COL. HOUSE IN EUROPE; PRESIDENT'S ENVOY.

TAKE 8,000 PRISONERS

American Patrols Penetrate Deeply [illegible] Into German Lines.

London, Oct. 26.—Continuing their drive against Maubeuge, the British third and fourth armies have made important progress on a front of nearly thirty-five miles, extending from southwest of Valenciennes to northeast of Wassigny.

They hold the western edge of the Mormal forest ,along its whole extent and are on the outskirts of Lequesnoy, fifteen miles directly west of Maubeuge. About 8,000 prisoners and 100 guns have been captured since Wednesday morning, when the attack was launched over a front of about seventeen miles.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Successful British operations on the Valenciennes front took on new importance to officers here yesterday in the light of the diplomatic situation, Field Marshal Haig's armies are striking savagely at the hinge of the present German line of resistance and the progress already made is thought by officers here to make it certain that the German retirement both in Belgium and in France will have to be resumed without delay.

TO LIFT BAN NOVEMBER 3

Churches, Movies, Schools and Other Places Closed as a Result of Epidemic to Reopen Soon.

The churches, moving picture establishments, schools and other places that have been closed as a result of the epidemic of influenza which has been prevalent the past month will not be reopened until about November 3.

This was the opinion expressed today by Dr. H. C. Robles, special acting state health officer, with offices in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Robles says the disease here is down to a minimum, and he added that Alexandria has a far greater decrease in the disease than any other section of the state. He is well pleased with the situation today.

GERMANY IS DEFIANT

Washington Believes Military Party Will Try For Last-Ditch Stand.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Official Washington is expecting to hear within the next 24 hours that Germany will make one more stand against her enemies; that she will refuse to surrender either her armies of her Emperor and that she will ask for no armistice in the immediate future. In other words, the confident expectation here is that she will assume a defiant attitude even though she makes one more bid to President Wilson for a "peace with justice."

All the unofficial reports which came through during the day pointed in this general direction. They showed that German autocracy is dying hard; that it is still willing to sacrifice the whole German nation upon the chance that it might survive, and that appeals will go forth from Berlin to the German people and the German army in an effort to muster them for a fight to the death against the invasion of German soil.

And it is assumed that the Imperialists, in this desperate situation, will resort to any expedient at hand to convince the German nation that this is from now on a war for its very life. They will say that it is the unbending purpose of the Allies to annihilate Germany, to wipe her from the map of Europe; that her enemies will not even make peace upon their own terms, but that they are now demanding that Germany's army surrender, her government perish and her power of resistance be utterly broken. And as proof of such a purpose the militarists will point to the note of the President.

The German people will be told, it is believed in Washington, that it would be worse than suicidal to accept a truce which paralyzes her military power. Just as soon as her army lays down its arms, surrenders its artillery and permits the occupation of its munition plants, the murderous enemies of Germany will dismember her, seize her fleets, enslave her people and forever destroy her as a nation. No such truce, Germans will be told, can be considered for a minute unless these people are prepared to deliver themselves unresistingly into the hands of greedy Britons, revengeful Frenchmen and blood-thirsty Americans.

FATTENING ON "FLU"

The complaints say that in some instances physicians have charged from $4 to $6 for an office call.

Police Intercept Two Automobiles Carrying Liquor Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Chief Goods, Sergeant Scott and Officer Bell late yesterday afternoon stopped two automobiles after they had entered the northwestern section of the city and upon searching the same found five satchels filled with bottled whisky. They also took charge of a negro who was carrying several quarts. The automobiles contained six persons, three in each, one of whom was white.

A special session of the Police Court was held at 7 o'clock last night when the seven were held for the grand jury. The white man and three of the negroes subsequently furnished bail for their appearance, and the others were sent to jail. Under the present law automobiles are confiscated.

The statement made in the Gazette on Wednesday to the effect that the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway was operating bootleggers' cars, which leave Eutaw and Pratt streets for Washington, thus segregating such passengers from the cars which depart from the depot in the monumental city, has brought forth long articles in Washington papers(and it is supposed the authorities of Washington will exercise closer surveilance in future.

FLOWERS OF LOVE AT LONDON SHRINE

London, Oct. 25—In a picturesque corner of Hyde Park not far from the noisy thoroughfare over which much of London's traffic passes is a war shrine, in the shape of a cross, where visitors may get some idea of the sorrow of a country which for four years has been weighted down by the ravages of war.

"All last week,' says the Dispatch the slow-moving streams of gray-haired mothers, grief-worn wives, sisters, daughters, sweethearts, passed round the shrine; the masses of flowers were piled higher and higher, the fresh fragrance of those of today mingling with the faint scent of yesterday's paler blossoms

'There were working women who took a part of their luncheon hour to join that little procession round the shrine; there were children who came in the late afternoon, and old men who passed as twilight drew near.

"Yesterday there was a little woman in black who came and laid a small bunch of roses as near the English flag as she could. On a card she had written, 'In memory of Will, my youngest boy,' and near those fresh roses were roses of the day before 'To John' and the day before that 'To George.'

"Three sons the little woman in black had given, three cards, three loosely tied bunches of flowers she had laid upon the war shrine. One moment she paused to speak to one of the Green Cross girls. 'I shall come again in a few weeks,' she said, with eyes that were moist and lips that smiled bravely; and then she walked slowly away, out of the park to a lonely home."

KITCHENER'S LOSS LAID TO CZARINA.

New York, Oct. 25.—Henry W. Mapp, Salvation Army Commissioner just returned from Russia says that information which made it possible for German submarines to sink the vessel on which Lord Kitchener was lost, was furnished the German government by the former Russian Czarina. He further claims that she had a private wire in her apartments at the winter palace in Petrograd, over which was transmitted to the German government all information in regard to military plans of the allies which Russia received as an ally.

CAUSE OF AMERICA

A Judge of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, a Baptist, acting as chairman of his local Jewish relief committee in the state-wide drive for funds for Jewish relief, made an interesting proposition. He proposed that the entire quota of his community, $5,000, be subscribed by non-Jews and that the Jews themselves be precluded from contributing to their own fund. "The Jews," he said, "have been foremost in giving of their time and money for the upbuilding and improvement of our city and country. They gave more than a third of the cost of our public hospital, have bought liberally of Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, and have been generous contributors to the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., and the K. of C. Shall we be less generous than they? I regard this as an exceptional opportunity to express our appreciation to the Jews for what they have done. If I had it in my power as chairman of the Jewish relief committee, I should prevent the acceptance of any contribution from the Jewish citizens of this community, so that we, the non-Jews, might have the pleasure of raising the entire quota ourselves." It is not astounding, in the light of this statement, that that little town raised not five thousand but fourteen thousand dollars for Jewish relief.

How has the situation came about in which it is no longer amazing to hear such announcements as this and to find Irish policemen holding up automobiles, Catholic priests and Protestant ministers calling upon their flocks, business men and public officials of all creeds ardently working for a cause apparently not their own. Two years ago it would have been incredible. Now it is a matter of course. Perhaps the Mayor of another town which went "over the top" for all drives came close to the truth. "It comes from reading the casualty lists," he said. "The American Army is recruited not from one creed or class, but from every creed and every class. Jew, Catholic, and Protestant are fighting shoulder to shoulder for us. Every day we read the names of those who have made the last sacrifice. We would not be doing our duty by our boys in the trenches, if we did not forget our old prejudices and unite our hearts, our souls and our pocketbooks behind them."

The real explanation is simple enough: The war is the cause of America, not the cause of any part of America. Anything that is done to maintain the morale of one part of our forces, helps the morale of all. Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Y. W. C. A., Catholic War Council—Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, American Library Association and War Camp Community Service are working for the well being and comfort of American soldiers and sailors, and that is all the recommendation they need in the eyes of loyal American citizens. Our boys are fighting for one cause—the cause of human liberty, which knows no creed, and the country would not be united behind them if it contributed its money on the basis of creed to the organizations which bring to the soldiers our word of cheer.

That is why President Wilson's proclamation naming November 11th as the day for a united War Work Campaign has met with universal enthusiasm. It formulates what the whole country has been thinking and doing and gives it concrete expression. And the country will show its degree of approval by going over the top in the drive for $170,500,000.

HUNS FEAR RETRIBUTION

While many good people are opposed to lex talionis, it is but natural that the French and Belgians burn with the desire to enter Germany and inflict damages similar to those caused by the Huns in northern France and Belgium. The Germans are apprehensive of this and are endeavoring to bring about peace or an armistice before the allies reach the Fatherland. The Kaiser and his people naturally dread the retribution.

While the captives of Israel were mourning their sad fate by the rivers of Babylon they exclaimed, "O daughter of Babylon, who are to be destroyed; happy shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us. Happy shall he be that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the stones."

The disaster approaching is moving with great swiftness, and its dimensions are so appalling to the Germans that they are unable to collect their wits. They fear invasion and reprisal on a colossal scale. The thought of the frightful crimes committed by their own army and navy comes back to torture them with the fear that they are doomed to suffer what the victims of Germans suffered. As worshipers of brute force they grovel before the idol that has turned his anger against them. To use another scriptural figure of speech, "Thy calf, O Samaria, hast cast thee off."

With superstitious wave thy behold the thickening skies to the westward, and strain their ears for the growl of the deadly thunders.

We will yet hear plenty of squealing from the stuck Hun boar. Germany will learn that it is far more difficult to end a war than it is to start one. She also will learn that the price she must pay for her world-murder will before the allies reach the Fatherland.

HOW FAR SHOULD THEY GO?

From present indications the invasion of Germany is inevitable, as the Kaiser and his war lords are averse to complying with the terms which are being urged by Foch. It is generally believed they will make a stand and fight to keep the allies out of the Fatherland. The latter, however, have no idea of stopping until they reach German soil, and unless there is a hasty capitulation stirring scenes may be enacted in the foe's territory.

How far should the allied nations go in making the German people pay for the barbarities and brutalities of its government and its army? is the question propounded by the Richmond Times-Dispatch. To what extent would a victorious allied army be justified in burning the cities, towns and villages beyond the enemy frontier as a reprisal for the wanton destruction which Germany has executed during the four years that she has occupied the territory of Belgium, of France and of Russia? Will the governments associated against Germany feel that their sense of humanity will permit the indiscriminate bombardment of civilian centers across the line once those centers come within the range of their heavy artillery?

Continuing our contemporary suggests that one atrocity cannot be cured by another, and that it should not be the part of the allies to punish numberless German women and children who have had no voice in the war in order to avenge the crimes of their autocratic and outlaw government. Those who cling to this conviction would be willing, no doubt, that every autocrat in Germany be driven from power, or even hung, and, if they could be found, that the men who fired upon the Lusitania or applied the torch to French and Belgian cities be shot, but they do not want the allies to be guilty of the same inhumanity for which Germany is now being tried and condemned before the world.

GERMAN TOYS

It would be interesting to know who sent to this country the 7,000 tons of German-made toys which arrived at New York a few days ago. The individuals or the firms in Holland which embarked in this enterprise must be singularly stupid or amazingly impervious to American sentiment. That any business man with a grain of sense could imagine that he could find a market for these goods in this country at this time is one of the most extraordinary incidents of the war.

The Baltimore War Mothers who denounce this shipment are right, and War Mothers in all parts of the United States will agree with them. They should be sent back to the shippers with the statement the best use they could be put to would be as a bonfire in celebration of Allied victory. Our ancestors made bonfires of British tea under much less provocation.

Whatever trade relations we may have with Germany after the war—and millions of Americans swear they will have none—we will have none now, directly or indirectly.

The Holland merchants must swallow their losses, if indeed, they have sustained any. Why did they not send this precious cargo to Paris, or to the Belgians, or to London, or to Poland or Serbia? This Christmas greeting would have brought tears to the eyes of the people of those countries. They have had a rare experience with German toys during the last four years—the poison gas toy, the aeroplane toy, the top in human shape that walks like a man and acts like a fiend. These German toys from Holland would be such pleasant reminders of the war toys made in Germany.

Send them back and tell Holland American children do not play with things manufactured by a nation which, while it was making them, was preparing for wholesale murder and rape.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Asks Dissolution of Marriage With "Pensacola Girl."

New York, Oct. 25.—Frank Jay Gould, brother of George Gould and youngest son of the late Jay Gould has started divorce proceedings in France against his second wife, Edith Kelly Gould, according to word received here from Paris.

Mrs. Gould was a show girl. She was enjoying a rather wide reputation for grace and beauty and was known as the Pensacola Girl in 1910 when Mr. Gould met and married her. She was then appearing in "Havana" at the Casino. They went immediately to Paris to live, although Mr. Gould never linquished his American citizenship. His second marriage followed closely upon a $200,000 heart balm suit instituted by Miss Bessie de Voie, a dancer, who was reported to have settled later for $10,000.

Mr. Gould's first wife was Helen Margaret Kelly, granddaughter of the late Eugene Kelly, wealthy New York banker. They were married in 1901 and she divorced him in 1909, naming Rose Winter, an English actress. She was awarded $40,000 annual alimony and received a large cash settlement. The custody of their children, Helen and Dorothy, was given to the father for seven months each year.

TROUBLE IN GERMANY.

Chaotic Conditions Prevail—Five Demands Are Made.

Copenhagen, via London, Oct. 25.—Details of the chaotic state of affairs in Hungary are beginning to filter through Vienna and Berlin, Count Michael Karolyi, the leader of the independence party, last night's advices show, made the following demands in a Szombathely speech before the Hungarian parliament:

1. Complete independence of Hungary.
2. Immediate declaration of peace.
3. Resignation of Baron Wekerle as Hungarian premier and of his whole cabinet.
4. Dissolution of the alliance with Germany.
5. An independent Slavonian state under a Hungarian King.

Count Karolyi threatened a revolution if these demands are not met immediately.

Premier Wekerle, in reply to the speech, declared his refusal to resign.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

David A. Little was instantly killed in Spottsylvania county late Wednesday afternoon when an automobile which he was driving turned over near Mount Pleasant, about 20 miles from Fredericksburg. His neck was broken and one side of his face crushed in. Four other cars were closely following, and Little apparently had all of them in charge, as five tollgate tickets were in his pocket. All four machines with their occupants hurried on, leaving Little in the road under the car. Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue C. R. Coleman took charge of the car and the load of liquor that it contained. Little was 38 years old, and is survived by his wife and four small children, who live in Richmond.

"Spokes"— and the Swift "Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it, his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?

NEWS OF THE DAY

The Kaiser is critically ill, according to reports received in Amsterdam. Her children are said to have been summoned to her bedside at Potsdam.

More than 1,000 Austrians were taken prisoners in three successful attacks by the allies on the Italian front, the Italians war office announces.

Fifty-one tons of bombs were dropped Wednesday night by British fliers on the German towns of Burbach and Saarbruecken. The cities of Mannheim, Coblenz, Metz-Sablon and Mainz were successfully bombed.

Dispatches from abroad last night, reciting the unanimity with which the President's message has been approved, confirm the belief that the allies of the United States are in complete accord on the next moves in the peace negotiations.

Housing conditions in Washington are hopeless, acording to the unanimous opinion of the government officials in charge who were interviewed yesterday. Government projects will not be finished for months, they agree, and when the buildings are done these will only house one month's newcomers.

Denial that Germany has ordered the cessation of all destructions whatsoever on the western front is made by the semi-official North German Gazette of Berlin. The newspaper also denies newspaper reports from outside Germany that German submarines have been recalled on their bases.

Twenty-five deaths from influenza were reported at the health office of the District of Columbia during the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock last night, the smallest number of fatalities reported for any similar period since the epidemic first broke out in Washington. The number of new cases reported also showed a marked improvement over the reports of the previous weeks.

In an apostolic letter to Dr. Alexander Kakowski, archbishop of Warsaw, the Pope expresses hopes that the people of Poland may enjoy the privilege of choosing their own form of government. The communication ends by saying that the pontiff, desiring to show his good will toward Poland, purposes to make Dr. Kakowski a cardinal at the next consistory.

The foundation stones of the Hebrew University at Jerusalem, recently laid in the presence of General Allenby and representatives of the French and Italian detachments, are twelve in number, one for each of the twelve tribes of Israel. The site of the university is on the summit of the Mount of Olives, facing Jerusalem on the one side and the hills of Moab on the other.

In answer to President Wilson's note, Austria, according to Swiss advices, will refuse to deal with the Czecho-Slovak council. German and Austrian newspapers have for weeks conducted denunciatory propaganda against the Czecho-Slovaks whom the United States and the allies have officially recognized as a belligerent nation. The former German chancellor, Count Hertling, called the Czecho-Slovaks "a band of traitors" in one of his last speeches before the Reichstag.

Solemn warning was sent to the United States and the other allies yesterday in New York that when they reach the peace conference they should beware of the trap set by Germans, Magyars and Turks to circumvent any real self-determination of the peoples of the present democratic mid-European union. Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk, prime minister of the Czecho Slovak de facto government, sounded the tocsin at the conference of representatives of the peoples in the union, and the dangers were emphasized in every speech made by delegates.

Prince Maximilian, of Baden, the German chancellor, has been stricken by influenza, Berlin advices state late yesterday. In some quarters here the question is raised whether it is the diplomatic brand of influenza that usually precedes the retirement of statesmen. No word has yet come through from Berlin as to whether President Wilson's note has been received there. Since the message was published in Amsterdam yesterday afternoon, however, having reached London early today and Paris at noon, it is reasonable to assume the German powers that be already have a fair outline of its contents if not the full text.

SOME "BOOZE" CITY

Estimated That Fifty Barrels of Whisky Are Brought Into Washington Daily.

Liquor traffic between Baltimore and Washington has swelled to such proportions that the Washington Baltimore and Annapolis railway has found it necessary to put five extra trains in daily operation. These extra trains are exclusively for the use of persons bringing liquor from Baltimore to Washington, and after being in operation eight days have gained the name of "bootleggers' specials." It is estimated that not less than fifty barrels of whisky are brought into Washington daily on these special trains.
